

Our Journey through life is not unique.
We are not unique
Many have experience the same things we have.
Like getting married, having children, watching them grow up
We all Experience having loved ones grow old and die
Being unique is living without being a slave.

The enslavers in my life were Church of God Preachers
That believe they were more worthy of life then I was Therefore, they had to right to enslave others and me

To keep from being enslave one must break through false beliefs
Create by Enslavers that misuses the Bible Passage
Walk by faith and not by sight

Walking with eyes shut and you walk right into slavery
With a master that will suck the life out your soul

Walking with eyes open
Stops you from believing false beliefs created by Enslavers

Walking with eyes open
Allows you to see Gods create and not your masters create

Barry Wyatt Jr. My life and prayers